

Conflict of Interest Declarations by Contributing Editors of the Special Issue on Early-Career Systems Microbiology Scientists, Sponsored by Janssen Human Microbiome Institute (JHMI)

mSystems® vol. 3, no. 2, is a special issue sponsored by Janssen Human Microbiome Institute (JHMI). In accordance with guidelines published by the U.S. National Library of Medicine and the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors, ASM provides the following disclosure statements.

A number of editors contributed to preparation of this special issue of mSystems. Their potential conflicts of interest, if any, are as follows.

Declarations of potential conflict(s) of interest. Pieter C. Dorrestein has joint research projects funded by Janssen but does not receive any consulting fees. Jack A. Gilbert received a $4,000 honorarium to give a lecture at the forum “Bugs, Drugs & Beyond: Targeting the Microbiome to Transform Health Care” in March 2017. Rob Knight is a Scientific Advisory Board member and consultant with Janssen Research & Development, LLC. Jeroen Raes has acted as a paid consultant for Janssen, and his lab has a research contract with them.

No declared conflict(s) of interest. The following editors declare no conflicts of interest with Janssen Human Microbiome Institute (JHMI): Caroline M. Ajo-Franklin, Rob Beiko, Holly Bik, Seth R. Bordenstein, Davide Bulgarelli, Rachel J. Dutton, Anthony Fodor, Steve Hallam, Julie A. Huber, Janet K. Jansson, Manuel Liebeke, Karen G. Lloyd, Catherine Lozupone, Lee Ann McCue, David A. Mills, Katie Pollard, Nicola Segata, Ashley Shade, Thomas Sharpton, Pamela A. Silver, James Stegen, Zarath M. Summers, Joshua Weitz, and Paul Wilmes.

Published 6 March 2018

Citation American Society for Microbiology. 2018. Conflict of interest declarations by contributing editors of the special issue on early-career systems microbiology scientists, sponsored by Janssen Human Microbiome Institute (JHMI). mSystems 3:e00010-18. <https://doi.org/10.1128/mSystems.00010-18>.

Copyright © 2018 American Society for Microbiology. All Rights Reserved.
mSystems® vol. 3, no. 2, is a special issue sponsored by Janssen Human Microbiome Institute (JHMI).